- WHEAT GOES AGAIN TO SEASON'S PEAK

Export Demand and Low Crop Condition Result in Advances.

ort demand in evidence and with mis-sivings prevalent as to the abnormally low condition of the domestic winler crop, wheat advanced to-day to a new high price record for the season—$1.26%. May delivery. The market closed firm 14%. to 1½c. net higher, with May $1.26½ to $1.26% and July $1.15% Corn gained % $2.26% to 1½c. oats a shade to ½c. and provisions 15c. to 32c.

Higher Liverpool quotations helped to give wheat here an upturn at the outset, notwithstanding that the action at Liverpool was sald to be chiefly a reflection of yesterday's advance here. Talk was current, however, that there had been a liberal amount of export business put through during the night and that cash inquiry for wheat at Kansas City was the best in some time. Furthermore, the Kansas State weekly report got a buillish construction as appropriate communication as appropriate communication as appropriate communication as appropriate communication.
